Thought for the Month...

You are the only problem you will ever have. And you are the only solution.

~Bob Proctor

"It may not be a big deal now, but when your grandmother jumped over the moon, she did it without the help of any performance enhancing drugs."

Maximize Your Fall Landscape

As the leaves begin to change and the cooler weather sets in, you might think that your landscaping fun is over. But never fear, there are plenty of ways to keep your landscape bright and colorful throughout the colder months.

Here's some ideas to make the most of your fall landscape:

- Start with plants. There are a number of fall-friendly plants to adorn your landscape and get in the spirit of the season. Among these, the arrowwood viburnum is a fantastic shrub, lending a bright splash of red foliage to your landscape along with the blue berries it produces during the fall. Another good choice for fall color is the fothergilla, a delightful shrub with fragrant white flowers in the spring and multi-colored foliage in the fall. You should also add a few maple tree varieties to your planting list as well.
- Fall flowers. Planting in the fall isn't just limited to trees and shrubs. Quite the contrary, there are several flowering plants that can bring both color and texture to your fall landscape. The Pansies are a good example, providing colorful flowers that last past the first frost. Marigolds are another good choice as are chrysanthemums and ornamental kales.
- Add some autumn decor. Fall is a wonderful time for decorating so don't be afraid to go "all-out" in your efforts. Think pumpkins and gourds, cornstalks and even a scarecrow or two to add some personality to your yard. In addition, hay bales, straw, burlap and tin pails and old milk cans can add some real character to your outdoor design.
- Don't forget seating. Just because the air is cooler doesn't mean you can't still enjoy entertaining. In fact, the cooler weather can make the outdoors much more bearable, especially when you're standing next to a hot grill. Lay some flat paving stones out to create a solid seating area and then compliment with your favorite lawn chairs and a few of those hay bales we mentioned earlier. Drape a few lightweight throws on the chairs and you've got everything you need to enjoy a fall barbecue.
- Put away summer toys. If you've got pool gear and the like laying around your deck or yard, now's the time to put it away to make room for other things. Replace these summer items with things a little more appropriate for the season such as a big muck bucket full of footballs or perhaps a crochet set or game of horseshoes.
- Connect with nature. Birdfeeders and houses make great outdoor decorations year round and give the birds room and board during the colder months when food isn't so readily available.

$75 Limit At The Pump

Most service stations now limit a charge to Visa and MasterCard to $75. Don't blame the station operator. It's the card companies' new policy. They will not reimburse the station owner for more than $75 if there is a fraudulent purchase of any size.

At $4 a gallon, $75 buys 18 1/4 gallons. Gas tanks on many cars hold 20 gallons. Some cars and pickups hold 31 or more and a big Winnebago holds 75 gallons.

Customers who hit the $75 limit and need more gas must start a new transaction at the pump. They can get the $75 limit over again.

A Bit of Laughter...

Actual newspaper headlines:

- Police begin campaign to run down jaywalkers.
- Safety experts say school bus passengers should be belted
- Drunk gets nine months in violin case
- Iraqi head seeks arms
- British left waffles on Falkland Islands
- Squad helps dog bite victim

- Fall fabrics. In addition to those cozy throws on your chairs, you can also use some fall-inspired fabrics to create seasonal placemats, tablecloths and other items that can be used when you entertain outdoors.
- Candles. Keep your backyard party going well into the evening hours by creating your own custom candle holders out of pumpkins and gourds. In addition, a chimenea or fire pit is a great way to add some warmth to your favorite gathering spot and create a wonderful focal point for your outdoor décor.
- Lights. Those inexpensive string lights come in a variety of themes so pick up a few sets to go with your new fall décor and light up your yard for weekend gatherings and outdoor parties.

Auto Insurance: Buy Smart

Making the right insurance choices can save big dollars on premiums:

Collision insurance: When a vehicle is financed, the lender requires collision insurance. It pays for damage to your vehicle in an auto accident when you are at fault. In a total loss, it pays the fair market value of your car or truck.

Comprehensive insurance: It's similar to collision but also covers damage to your vehicle by an unknown party or "act of God." Vandalism, flood, hurricane, theft and fire are usually covered, but check the policy for the details.

Liability insurance: If you are at fault in an accident, you could be held liable for medical and repair costs for everyone involved. Liability coverage won't pay for your vehicle, but it can shield you from cost of damage to others. Some owners of older vehicles choose liability coverage only. Adding comprehensive insurance for a vehicle valued at $3,000 more or less costs little, and could be very helpful if you have to replace the car.

Bodily injury insurance: If people are injured in an accident that is your fault, this insurance will pay for medical expenses, loss of income, funeral expenses, legal defense fees and more. Consider purchasing the highest limit you can afford.

Property damage liability insurance: It pays for structural damage to homes, storefronts, stationary objects, vehicle repair or replacement costs when the accident was your fault. It can protect assets in the event of a lawsuit resulting from a covered accident. Consider buying the highest limit you can afford.

Insurance agents usually present a comprehensive or collision policy with the addition of bodily injury, liability, and other features insurance listed separately on the bill. The coverages may be limited, but you can raise them. To save on insurance costs, increase the deductible amount. There is a 20 percent savings when the deductible is raised from $200 to $500 and greater savings if it is raised to $1,000.

Landscaping Question Corner...

Q. I'm done with the garden this year. What can I do now to get it ready for next spring?

A. Gardening isn't over just because the cooler air sets in. In fact, there's a number of things you can do to prepare your lawn and garden for the next planting season.

To start, you'll want to pull up any left-over annuals that have died off as well as weeds and any remnants of vegetables or other plantings.

Now is also a good time to turn over the soil with and mix in some compost and fertilizer. Don't mulch just yet - it could draw mice and rats. Instead, save that for winter.

Perennials can be divided during this time as well and stored away for next season. You'll also want to cover any perennials you're leaving in the ground - start by cutting them back to just a few inches above ground and the have some protective covers ready for when the weather gets frosty.

Also remember that edibles such as broccoli, cabbage, spinach and garlic love cooler weather so you can still do a little planting before winter really sets in.
